RISE Up is a powerful program offering training and credentials that help you find a job in retail. From retail basics to advanced skills, RISE Up training sets you up for success. With a RISE Up credential, you will surely stand out in the crowd.

WHAT IS RISE UP?
RISE Up is a powerful program offering training and credentials that help you find a job in retail. From retail basics to advanced skills, RISE Up training sets you up for success. With a RISE Up credential, you will surely stand out in the crowd.

WHY RETAIL?
A job in retail is an investment in your future. Not only are there hundreds of thousands of job openings in distribution centers, call centers, and stores each year, but the skills you gain working in retail will help you succeed in any career.

Program Benefits
RISE Up gives you the education and the skills to develop a career that lasts a lifetime. Major retailers helped shape the curriculum to ensure that the training:

- Gives you an advantage in landing your first retail job
- Prepares you for success
- Provides an industry-recognized credential from the world’s largest retail industry association

Retail employs more than 13 million people in the United States.

Good jobs change lives. Find out more and sign up at nrf.com/riseup

Retail training and credentials to help you build a lifelong career

32% of first jobs are retail or restaurant jobs

7/10 retail small business owners worked in retail prior to starting their own business

60% of current retail store employees have been promoted - on average, less than 10 months after being hired into an entry-level position

$38k is what full-time retail workers between 25 and 54 years of age make on average per year